"August Flower"

Dyspepsia.

There is a gentleman at Malden-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., named Captain A. G. Pareis, who has written us a letter in which it is evident that he has made up his mind concerning some things, and this is what he says:

"I have used your preparation called August Flower in my family for seven or eight years. It is constantly in my house, and we consider it the best remedy for Indigestion, and Constipation we

Indigestion. have ever used or known. My wife is troubled with Dyspepsia, and at times suffers very much after eating. The August Flower, however, relieves the difficulty. My wife frequently says to me when I am going to town, 'We are out Constipation of August Flower, and I think you had better get another bottle.' I am also troubled with Indigestion, and whenever I am, I take one or two teaspoonfuls before eating, for a day or two, and all trouble is removed."

CUSTOM HOUSE APPRAISERS.

It seems as if everything pertaining to the affairs of National, State and Municipal affairs in Pennsylvania is conducted on crooked principles. "Addition, division and silence" is thoroughly understood by officials in that State, who under the guise of patriotism, plunder the people. The defalcation of Barclays and rascality of the Keystone Bank officials caused somebody to notice the manner in which the Custom House at Philadelphia is conducted, and the result is the arrest of five mercantile appraisers. These gentlemen were appointed, as nearly all Custom House officials are, for services rendered "the party," not because of their fitness for the position which they occupied. Knowing that fact they took advantage of the circumstance, and either neglected their duties or used their official position for their own pecuniary benefit. They are charged with various forms of dereliction in office, and were held by a Magistrate in $2,500 bail each for appearance at the next term of court.

It has been charged, and good grounds given on which to base the charge, that many appraisers in the principal Custom Houses of the country undervalue many articles of import for a consideration, thus enriching themselves at the expense of the public revenue and driving importers, who do not understand addition, division and silence out of business because they cannot pay the full tariff on their goods and compete with those whose merchandise is admitted at an undervaluation. Instances have been cited in which clothing wool, on which the duty is ten cents per pound in the dirty, twenty cents if washed, and thirty cents if scoured, has been appraised as carpet wool, and admitted at one-half or one-third of those rates. This is a gross injustice to the honest importer, who is driven to the wall by dishonest competition, and it accounts for the seemingly unaccountable fact that Nevada clothing wools frequently do not net the producers only four or five cents per pound more than the tariff on such wools. This leads him to believe that similar wools can be produced in Australia and South America at a few cents per pound, when, in fact, the cause is found in the Custom Houses in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, where political strikers and ward politicians are given responsible positions as a reward for their services in elections.

THE DEMAND FOR PENSIONS.

General Enoch, Congressman elect from Ohio, asked Commissioner Raum of the Pension Bureau why there was not uniformity in answers to his calls for a status of pension claims. Commissioner Raum in his reply states that on July 1st there were 528,788 claimants who had never been pensioned and 395,608 claims for an increase, making a total of 924,396 pending claims. It is practically impossible to bring all these claims to an immediate settlement, and new claims are to a great extent given the precedence over claims for an increase.

Last year the Pension Office received over 1,270,000 communications from claimants, their friends and attorneys. Members of Congress alone sent nearly 155,000 communications regarding pension claims last year.

There were 537,444 pensioners on the rolls last December. Several, perhaps thousands, have since been added, and there are 538,787 new claims yet pending. If the pending claims are allowed there will be over one million pensioners on the rolls, and about $250,000,000 a year will be required to pay them.

The late President Garfield was very much mistaken when, in apologizing for increasing the pension appropriation to $29,000,000 a year, he declared that the climax in pensions had been reached, and that of necessity the claims upon the people from that source would thenceforward grow less and less every year. Experience proves that the farther we get from the war the greater the demand for pensions.

THE DECLINE IN WOOL.

The President of the High Tariff Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, one of the men who made the wool schedule in the McKinley bill writes a letter to the New York World, in which he says:

It is an interesting fact, deserving much emphasis of statement, that the prices of wool are lower now than they were one year ago. This decline was distinctly promised by protectionists during the discussion which accompanied their framing of the McKinley tariff.

If the decline of three or four cents per pound in the price of wool is attributable to the McKinley bill, as is alleged by the framer of the wool schedule of the bill, Nevada wool growers ought to ask Congress to reduce the tariff on wool, as the business will be unprofitable if the price of wool continues to decline.

Convict Labor Bill Defeated.

Special to the Journal.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., September 15.—The Tennessee Senate to-day passed on the third reading of the bill to erect a new penitentiary, the location to be selected by the Commissioners.

The bill to abolish the convict lease system after the expiration of the present lease was killed.

BY TELEGRAPH!

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

In State Convention at Saratoga. Special to the Journal.

SARATOGA, N. Y., September 15.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order at noon. George Raines of Rochester, was chosen temporary chairman and began his address. He said: "The campaign which draws upon us is to be fought upon the records of the parties in State Administration. That ours will assure the confidence of the people in their actual leadership, we are no longer left to conjecture."

"As to the Republican leadership, Platism stalks in it for popular view and judgment. The most conspicuous plank in the Republican platform is a precise acknowledgment of reciprocity in trade with foreign people as advantageous to all our industries."

The temporary chairman pointed with pride to the growing commerce of our country and the reciprocity with our American neighbors induced by the matchless foresight of Secretary Blaine.—The foresight so commended dates from February, 1890, and was very hateful to the Republican Congress.

It came too late to stop the movement of the people in every State to retire that Republican Congress. The foresight of the people had been exercised at a much earlier period and had been kept alive by the wilful refusal of Congress to give such reductions of the tariff as would make it competitive, not prohibitory.

"It is on the lines of State affairs that this contest must wage most keenly. The people are weary of the dictator of a legislation not charged by the people with office. They realize that Platt's whim has been a breath in the nostrils of Senator Fassett during his whole career. Fassett's leadership has been forced upon his associates by every appliance of machine politics. He has held by the throat the largest interests of the State, until they gave up by bribes of places or subservience to the ambition of Platt."

The speaker dwelt at length upon State matters. Speaking of the last census, the speaker said that the States by it was robbed of the equal right at the ballot box. He scored the Republican Legislature for its failure to do various things for the good of the State and the people.

In closing he eulogized Hill. He hoped the mantle of succession in the high office of Governor would fall upon as brave and skillful a leader and as true a Democrat as the Governor-Senator.

FLOODS IN SPAIN.

Terrible Privations and Suffering of the Survivors. Special to the Journal.

MADRID, September 15.—The overflowing of the Consuegra threatens to cause further damage. Families saved from drowning are in great distress from want of food. An estimated account classed as a moderate one, and which is within, rather than over the actual number, places the total death list at 2,000. A large number of corpses still rest where they were found, and unless soon buried an epidemic of fever is feared. So far as possible the bodies of the drowned are being gathered from the streams and mud banks and ruins and are being buried in trenches. Unhappily the worst is not yet known and months of terrible privations and extreme suffering are before the utterly impoverished survivors. Crops are gone, cattle swept away, houses ruined and all that would enable them to earn their bread has vanished beneath torrents of water. Extreme distress and a positively ravenous feeling of starvation prevails in many sections. Bands of desperate men, determined to obtain bread at any cost for their hunger-tortured families, have been driven to making raids on and pillaging buildings where they expected to find food. Troops have been instructed to take most severe measures to protect property. Two thousand miles of army bread have arrived in the flooded districts. When the Government delegate in charge of the first consignment of bread arrived he was beset by the famished inhabitants, male and female, the majority half naked or clad in rags, and most of them on their knees with hands uplifted praying for succor. When all the bread was gone their still remained many months unfilled, many sufferers being unable to obtain even the smallest portion of this temporary relief.

A Fatal Quarrel.

Special to the Journal.

MARTINEZ, September 15.—Saturday the 6th instant Frank Beard, a laboring man, quarreled with Stephen Ballenger, bartender in F. M. Holway's saloon at Byron. Ballenger refused to give Beard a drink, he being already under the influence of liquor. Beard assaulted Ballenger who hit him on the head with a cider bottle, felling him to the floor. Beard was carried to the lockup and on Sunday his queer actions attracted attention. The examining physician pronounced him insane and he was committed to the Stockton asylum. On Wednesday he died and an examination disclosed a fractured skull. Ballenger was arrested and held on a charge of manslaughter with bond at $5,000. Ballenger is reported as a quiet, inoffensive man, while Beard was quarrelsome and ugly when in liquor.

The Chilean Market Glutted.

Special to the Journal.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., September 15.—The English steamer Haunslo came into port this morning from Chile. She took 4,000 tons of flour and wheat down for Grace & Company, but found the markets glutted. Wheat and flour are cheaper than in San Francisco. She left Iquique about midnight, and was pursued and fired on by the ram Huascar, which was on the lookout for Congressional ships. Several balls passed closely over the vessel. The Huascar then discovered what vessel it was and went away.

The Irrigation Congress.

Special to the Journal.

SALT LAKE, September 15.—The Irrigation Congress was called to order at 12:30 to-day, about 450 delegates being present. Governor Thomas, on behalf of Utah, welcomed the delegations in a somewhat extensive speech. The speaker referred to the ceding of the arid lands to the States and Territories, and said that Congress would doubtless consider the question. The Congress, he thought, would be a great educating meeting. Few people in the East have any idea of the physical condition of the West, and this would enlighten them to a great extent. The tide of emigration which has been drifting Westward has now turned and is going East. The great arid regions of the United States are being settled upon, and the question is how shall we make lands habitable. The speaker spoke of reserving great grazing ranges and said this should be sold in tracts, of limited value, under carefully guarded provisions of the law.

The Mayor and President of the Chamber of Commerce also delivered addresses. Permanent officers were then chosen, O. C. Wright, of California, being selected as President and F. K. Gillespie Secretary. Wright delivered a short speech on the matter of ceding the arid lands to the State or Territory in which they are situated, and the best means to suggest to Congress for so doing; also, the best methods for irrigation to be suggested.

At the conclusion, it was decided to appoint a committee to memorialize Congress, and Thursday was set aside as a special order for preparing a memorial.

The San Francisco Prize Fight.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 15.—Tom McCarthy of Boston and Billy Smith of Australia, heavyweights, fought for a thousand-dollar purse at the California Club to-night. The men fought warily at the start, but exchanged several hot blows, Smith jabbing his left under the Boston boy's chin, while the latter came back with a powerful right-hand swing.

In the second round Smith drove him to the ropes, but missed his opening for a knockout.

The third round was McCarthy's. He nearly dropped Smith with a glancing left on the jaw.

The next three rounds varied little, Smith continuing on the aggressive, driving a hot left for McCarthy's chin, while the latter responded with his right swings, upcutting at close quarters.

In the middle of the eighth round Smith sent him staggering to the ropes. Smith followed him up, punching him in the wind. McCarthy sat down, but rose to continue the fight, when Smith rushed him to the ropes, playing both hands for his head and wind. McCarthy went down thrice. Twice he rose at the call of nine seconds and feebly attempted to respond to Smith, who was himself weak from the force of his own blows, but when he went down for the third time he was unable to rise on the tenth second and was counted out.

The Albertson Case.

Special to the Journal.

TACOMA, September 15.—Interest in the Albertson case continues unabated. J. P. Koehkersperger, for the prosecution, testified as special agent, employed to adjust claims and losses arising in the business of the Fidelity and Casualty Company he had been dispatched to Tacoma armed with a copy of a letter written to his company by E. Albertson, inclosing their bond for $10,000 for Albertson's fidelity, and advising them that the claim had expired. The letter ended as follows:

"I wish you would write to R. B. Albertson, attorney-at-law, Seattle, Washington, (personal) and advise him of your action on the within. He may be able to advise you in the matter. Whatever you write him will be strictly confidential."

(Signed) E. ALBERTSON.

On arriving here Koehkersperger wrote a long letter to R. B. Albertson, in which he reviewed the case, and asked him to come to Tacoma and meet him. Albertson came to Koehkersperger's room in the Tacoma Hotel, but denied all knowledge of the affair.

R. B. Albertson was the first witness for the defense. He said he was a first cousin of E. Albertson, but had not seen him for months. Chandler got him to draw up an agreement signed by the bank officials in blank, saying it was for mutual friends. He never dreamed it was his cousin Albertson. Friday, after the fight of the robbers, Chandler came to his office with a letter for Mrs. Albertson, and he told him to mail it. He had not seen either of the men since that day and did not know where they were.

The hearing will be continued to-morrow. The Island of Mytilene Not Seized by the English.

Special to the Journal.

LONDON, September 15.—The Standard's Odessa correspondent says that during the coming five weeks 10,000 troops will be conveyed by the Russian volunteer fleet from Batoum to Sebastopol and Odessa. The Times takes a sceptical view of the Sigi rumor. "In a great struggle," says the Times, "it would be our policy to close the Suez canal and make our route to India by the Cape of Good Hope."

It is now stated that the Mytilene scare has arisen from the fact that a party of British naval officers on Saturday last picked up a desert islet off Cape Sigi, and that they re-embarked the same evening on board their vessel and sailed away on Sunday.

While it is now admitted that the British force has not seized the Island of Mytilene, news to the effect that the Island had been occupied was received from Mytilene and elsewhere by various ambassadors at Constantinople and other Capitals. The affair has caused great excitement in diplomatic circles for a short time, and it is still asserted that the same "maneuvers" had at least the purpose of showing the Sultan and his advisers how easily England could change her boat drills and landing exercises off the Island of Mytilene into a dangerous reality.

The Pine Nut Mines. Special to the Journal.

CARSON, September 15.—Zinn's mine and the surrounding country has been visited by Capt. F. W. Crosby, Mineralogist of the Smithsonian Institute. He says it is a wonderful country, thoroughly loaded with rich ore.

The Pine Nut Consolidated Mining Company send men to work next week, and the Monarch Consolidated Mining Company send four men to-morrow.

Zinn has struck a rich silver vein four miles from the Bank of California. He takes a chunk of ore, places it in a retort, subjects it to great heat and big beads of silver run out. As other miners go deeper they find the same gold formation as that found by Zinn. Blasting powder is now being used extensively in tearing up new ledges all the time. The stage leaves every other day with passengers and additional supplies.

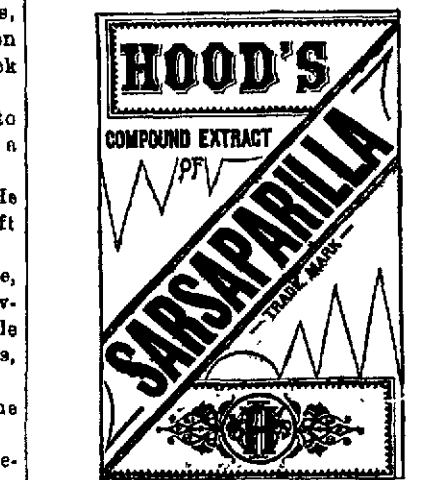

Fruit Damaged by Rain.

Special to the Journal.

MARTINEZ, September 15.—Rain commenced falling here last night and continued until 10 A. M. to-day with a prospect of more to-night. Damage is likely to result to grapes in this section. Considerable drying fruit has been ruined.

Postoffice Hours.

On and after Wednesday, September 10th, the delivery window at the Reno, Nevada, postoffice will be open from 8 o'clock A. M. until 8 o'clock P. M., 1w H. P. KAUS, Postmaster.

R. V. Borden left yesterday for St. Louis to attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., which meets in that city on the 21st. He will be accompanied from Winnemucca by B. F. Riley of Paradise Valley, who is also a representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge.

A rainstorm, accompanied by thunder and lightning set in last evening and continued for some time, laying the dust and materially cooling the atmosphere. It is probable that Melbourne, the rainmaker, who is experimenting at Kelton, will claim the credit of causing the storm.

The White Pine News of last Saturday says: Every afternoon or evening during the present week we have had heavy rains, accompanied by thunder and lightning. Thursday afternoon hail as big as marbles fell for a few minutes. We need no artificial rain-makers in Eastern Nevada just now; we are getting more than we need through nature's medium.

A CLOSE CALL.

Master Chester Allen Narrowly Escapes Drowning.

The Aberdeen (Washington) Bulletin of September 9th says: "Master Chester Allen, son of D. Allen, met with an experience yesterday that came near being his last on earth. He had caught a fish in the slough back of his father's house, and wishing to keep it alive, took a coal oil can to the slough and in attempting to fill it with water fell in. The water in the slough was about six feet deep and the little fellow kept himself from sinking a few moments, by holding to the oil can, but it slipped from his grasp and went down. Mrs. Eichner heard his cries and called to the boy's mother, the latter arriving on the spot in time to step out on a log and catch him as he was sinking the second time, and he was soon on shore."

Master Chester is the boy who fell from a hay loft here last Winter and received injuries which confined him to his bed for several weeks.

"INCOG."

The Model Comedy Company of America Charles Dickson was for several years a member of the Lyceum stock company of New York, and while with them created the comedy successes in all their plays, his greatest creation being that of Jack Dexter, the college boy, in "The Wife." He was also the first correspondent in "Held by the Enemy." Previous to that he was the leading comedian of Robson & Crane, and in his methods reminds one of the latter and the elder Southern rolled into one. Of late years he has made a business of remaining in New York and creating the comedy parts in new plays, which are given star casts in order to insure their subsequent road to success. The company which will support him here is the same that will support him in New York and San Francisco, and has been hailed by the Eastern press as the "model comedy company of America."

Mr. Dickson will appear in "Incoq" at McKissick's Opera House next Saturday evening.

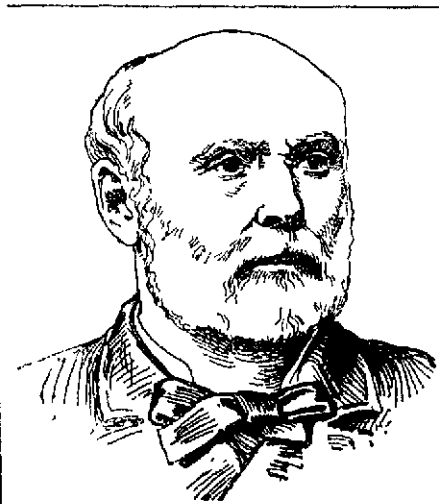

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

JULES GREVY.

Ex-President of the French Republic. On September 9 the ex-President of the French Republic died.

Jules Grevy was born August 15, 1813, at Mont Sous-Vaudres, France. After having studied for the bar in the College of Poligny he was admitted an advocate. In the revolution of July, 1830, M. Grevy took a prominent part and defended many of the Radical members who were charged with political offenses. In 1848 he was appointed Commissary of the Provisional Government in his department and was returned to the Constituent Assembly, heading the list of the successful candidates for the Jura. As a member of the Committee of Justice, and Vice President of the Assembly, M. Grevy frequently ascended the tribune and proved himself to be one of the most able speakers among the Democratic party. Three important amendments on the question of the Presidency were proposed by M. Grevy, but defeated by a large majority October 7, 1848. After the election which followed in December M. Grevy opposed the Government of Louis Napoleon, and after the coup d'etat withdrew from politics entirely, devoting himself to his profession. In February 1871, after the Franco-Prussian war, M. Grevy was elected President of the National Assembly, and in discharging the duties of this important office he displayed tact, judgment and moderation.

On the retirement of Marshal McMahon from the Presidency Jules Grevy was elected President of the French Republic for the term of seven years. His administration generally gave great satisfaction. Of late he had not given much attention to politics.

MRS. FAIR'S ESTATE.

How the Lady Disposed of Her Property The San Francisco Report says:

"The late Mrs. Theresa Fair left an estate valued approximately at $5,500,000, and consisted chiefly of United States bonds, and other solid securities, and a few valuable pieces of real estate. Deceased made a will several years ago and named John W. Mackay and Richard V. Dey as executors without bonds. The will will be formally opened after the funeral, but from a warm friend of the family, a Daily Report reporter this morning learned the following general particulars how Mrs. Fair left her property: With the exception of some minor bequests to friends the whole estate has been left to her daughters, Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and Miss Birdie Fair. When deceased secured a divorce from her former husband, James G. Fair, one of the terms of the settlement was that she was to provide for the daughters and that he was to take charge of and provide for the sons, James G. Fair, Jr., and Charles Fair. This is why no property has been bequeathed by her to the sons. With the divorce Mrs. Fair received about $4,500,000 which has since increased to about $5,500,000. It is understood that no bequests have been made to charity, as Mrs. Fair in her lifetime gave freely and often to charitable objects, and the list of these charities is said to be a long one."

Deafness Can't Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FAUST.

A First-Class Show and a Good House. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather last night, it having rained steadily during the evening, a good house greeted Lewis Morrison as the curtain rose at McKissick's Opera House. The play has a world-wide reputation, and the rendition of it by Mr. Morrison and his excellent company, would not have displeased the great Goethe, had he been present to witness it. The scenic effects are grand, and Morrison as "Mephisto," stands unexcelled and unrivalled.

Ammonia Baking Powder Must Go.

Bills have been introduced in the New York, Illinois and Minnesota Legislatures compelling the manufacturer of such baking powders to brand on the label in bold type, this powder "Contains ammonia." Physicians and chemists condemn the use of ammonia in baking powders as a crime. Its constant use no matter how small the quantity deranges the stomach, neutralizing the gastric juice and destroying the complexion. It is the small quantities taken every meal that do the mischief.

It is gratifying to know there are pure baking powders to be had on the market and at no greater cost to the consumer than some of these so-called "absolutely pure" ammonia powders.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, the standard pure cream of tartar powder for forty years. Free from the taint of either ammonia or alum. None so pure—None so wholesome.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.
